To meet the Scholarly Engagement requirement, doctoral students should interact with faculty and peers in ways that may include enrolling in courses; attending seminars, symposia, and conferences; engaging in collaborative study and research beyond the university campus; and utilizing the library, laboratories, and other facilities provided by the university. The goal is to prepare students to be scholars who can independently acquire, evaluate, and extend knowledge, as well as develop themselves as effective communicators and disseminators of knowledge. The purpose of the Scholarly Engagement requirement is to ensure that doctoral students are active participants in the scholarly community. Each academic unit with a doctoral program should include a program specific statement in its Graduate Handbook describing how its students can meet the Scholarly Engagement requirement.

These workshops give any graduate student, post doc, faculty or staff member that is interested in pedagogy an opportunity to discuss strategies and techniques that promote excellence in teaching and learning. Pie, coffee, and conversation with others from different academic areas is always provided free of charge. Each workshop is led by the PIE Director, PIE Teaching Associates, or an FSU faculty or staff member. PIE workshops also count towards the PFF and/or PFP Certificates, as well as the Advanced PIE Teaching Training Recognition. A MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN OF THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

“Welcome to Florida State University…”

I want to extend my personal congratulations to you on your acceptance into graduate studies at Florida State University. Graduate study is a time of exploration and immersion in a particular specialty. It is a time for the free exchange of ideas, acquisition of new skills, and creation of new knowledge. It is a time when faculty changes from being your teachers to being mentors and colleagues.

The Graduate School supports graduate students in every program at Florida State University. We provide assistance in academic matters, advice on university-wide degree requirements, and information on the availability of financial assistance including assistantships, fellowships and scholarships, as well as approval for theses, treatises, and dissertations. We also offer professional development workshops to help you succeed in your academic program, be effective in research and teaching, and prepare for a wide range of career options.

Florida State University is recognized by the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education as an R1 doctoral university, the highest status accorded to a doctoral-granting university. Graduate and professional studies are pursued by approximately 7,800 graduate, law, and medical students. Graduate students at Florida State University have the opportunity to study with a community of scholars. Our esteemed faculty includes members of the National Academy of Sciences and American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Guggenheim Fellows, and Pulitzer Prize recipients. Graduate education is a core component of the institution’s mission as a university. You are now part of a select and diverse group. You have come to us from ninety-five foreign countries and all fifty states. We are looking forward to you becoming leaders in your professions and communities.

On behalf of The Graduate School, I wish you success in pursuing your advanced studies, and encourage you to contact us if you need any assistance.

Sincerely,

Mark Riley, Ph.D.
Dean, The Graduate School
This handbook contains information that has been assembled from many sources to assist students in pursuing their graduate education at Florida State University. It is not exhaustive in regard to the policies and procedures affecting graduate education at Florida State University. The Graduate Bulletin should be consulted as the official reference on such policies and procedures. Additional information of interest to graduate students can be found on the Graduate School public website (gradschool.fsu.edu) and Graduate School Faculty and Staff website.

Please Note

The Graduate Bulletin is not a contract, either expressed or implied, between the University and the student, but represents a flexible program of the current curriculum, educational plans, offerings and requirements that may be altered from time to time to carry out the administrative, academic, and procedural purposes and objectives of the University. The University specifically reserves the right to change, delete or add to any provision, offering, academic curriculum, program, or requirement at any time within the student's period of study at the University. The University further reserves the right to withdraw a student from the University for cause at any time. Students are on notice that admission to the University or registration for a given semester does not guarantee the availability of a course at any specific time. Likewise, admission to the University or registration for a given program of study within the University, or a department or college of the University, is not a guarantee of a degree or of certification in a program.
UNIVERSITY MISSION AND VISION

Vision

Florida State University will be one of the world's premier institutions of higher education, devoted to transforming the lives of our students, shaping the future of our state and society, and offering programs of national and international distinction in a climate of inquiry, engagement, collegiality, diversity, and achievement.

Mission

Florida State University preserves, expands, and disseminates knowledge in the sciences, technology, arts, humanities, and professions, while embracing a philosophy of learning strongly rooted in the traditions of the liberal arts. The university is dedicated to excellence in teaching, research, creative endeavors, and service. The university strives to instill the strength, skill, and character essential for lifelong learning, personal responsibility, and sustained achievement within a community that fosters free inquiry and embraces diversity.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY AND STANDARDS

Values and Moral Standards at Florida State University

The moral norm, which guides conduct and informs policy at Florida State University, is responsible freedom. Freedom is an important experience that the University, one of the freest of institutions, provides for all of its citizens: faculty, students, administrators, and staff. Freedom is responsibly exercised when it is directed by ethical standards.

As Florida public university most deeply rooted in the liberal arts tradition, Florida State University not only focuses on intellectual development, but as a community engaged in moral discourse, it also recognizes the need for the development of the whole person. The University maintains a comprehensive educational program ranging from classroom instruction to research and creative activities at the frontiers of human knowledge. These modes of searching for the truth are mutually enhancing and provide the context for the liberating experiences students gain from contact with ideas and individuals. Education based in the liberal arts provides an opportunity for students to learn to express themselves; to think critically both quantitatively and qualitatively; to gain an understanding of and respect for self and others; to understand the world by knowing more about its history, the role of science and technology, and social and cultural achievements; and to develop specialized talents for a vocation. This opportunity is provided with the conviction, as reflected in the University seal, that through such an educational experience one can come to a clearer understanding of the complex moral issues inherent in human life and can develop the knowledge and skills for effective and responsible participation in the world.

Florida State University shares a commitment to the dignity and worth of each person and is guided in its many endeavors by that underlying value. Through academic activity, community involvement, social interaction, cultural experience, recreational and physical activity, and religious involvement, students find many avenues in the University community for the development of the whole person.

The University shares this society’s commitment to the rule of law and expects members of the community to abide by the laws of the city, state, and nation, as well as University rules and regulations.
The University aspires to excellence in its core activities of teaching, learning, research, creative expression, and public service and is committed to the integrity of the academic process. The Academic Honor Code is a specific manifestation of this commitment. Truthfulness in one's claims and representations and honesty in one's activities are essential in life and vocation, and the realization of truthfulness and honesty is an intrinsic part of the educational process.

The University is a place of both assent and dissent and is committed to academic freedom and civil dialogue. In a free and vigorous academic community an ongoing clash of ideas is to be expected and encouraged. The University has a special obligation to see that all have an opportunity to be heard.

Florida State University is committed to nondiscrimination in matters of race, creed, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, veterans, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or any other protected group status. This commitment applies in all areas with students, faculty, and other University personnel. It addresses recruiting, hiring, training, promotions, and applicable employment conditions. It is also relevant to those aspects of the University concerned with the choice of contractors, suppliers of goods and services, and with the use of University facilities. The University believes in equal opportunity practices that conform to both the spirit and the letter of all laws against discrimination.

A responsible student recognizes that freedom means the acknowledgment of responsibility to the following: to justice and public order; to fellow students' rights and interests; to the University, its rules, regulations, and accepted traditions; to parents, teachers, and all others whose support makes one's advanced education possible; to city, state, and national laws; to oneself; and to the opportunity for specialized training and continuing education toward the ends of personal fulfillment and social service. Students are urged to use their freedom in the University community to develop habits of responsibility that lead to the achievement of these personal and social values. Responsible student behavior requires observance of the Student Conduct Code, which is based on respect for the dignity and worth of each person and the requirements for successful community life.

Relations among all persons should be characterized by mutual respect and equality. Sexism, sexual harassment, and sexual coercion of any sort are wrong and constitute a violation of fundamental moral requirements and state law. Minimally responsible behavior requires that no one take sexual advantage of another.

The University enforces all laws relevant to alcohol and controlled substances and further strongly discourages the use of illegal substances at any time. The University disseminates and encourages the dissemination by others of information concerning the responsible use of alcohol.

The cultural, ethnic, and racial diversity of the University community provides an opportunity for learning about those different from oneself. The University expects each individual to make a special effort to ensure that all are treated with dignity and respect and accorded the full opportunities of the University. Racism, whether in assumptions, attitudes, acts, or policies, is incompatible with the concept of responsible freedom as espoused by Florida State University.

The University is a compassionate community. In its treatment of students, it recognizes the wisdom both of letting students experience the consequences of their actions and of providing the opportunity to learn and grow in ways that can overcome past difficulties. The University provides ongoing student support through the health center, counseling services, and the academic advising process.

The university experience is a time for adventure, fun, excitement, the making of new friends, and the discovery of new possibilities. There are numerous individual and organized opportunities for students to develop and to learn in the course of their university years to exercise newly acquired freedom deliberately and responsibly.
Matriculation to Florida State University, then, is a summons to the exercise of responsible freedom in a community of teaching, learning, and discovery.

Title IX Information

Sex Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct are contrary to Florida State University’s (“FSU” or “University”) values and moral standards, which recognize the dignity and worth of each person. The University is committed to providing and maintaining programs, activities, and an educational and work environment founded on civility and respect, where no one is unlawfully excluded from participation in, denied the benefits of, or subjected to discrimination in any University program or activity on the basis of sex (including gender), sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression (“Sex Discrimination”). The University strongly promotes the involvement of all campus constituents in making FSU a safe and welcoming environment. In order to address situations of Sex Discrimination or Sexual Misconduct, individuals are encouraged to promptly report an incident.

Sexual Misconduct, as defined by this Sex Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct Policy (“Policy”) includes: gender-based discrimination; Sexual Harassment; Sexual Violence (Rape/Sexual Assault/Sexual Battery); Relationship Violence (Domestic Violence and Dating Violence); Stalking; Sexual Exploitation; and other sex- or gender-based misconduct. Sex Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct are antithetical to the values and standards of the University community and are incompatible with the safe, healthy environment that the University community expects and deserves. Sex Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct will not be tolerated by FSU whether it is committed by students, employees (faculty, staff, or any other paid employee), visitors, or others.

Graduate Students who are employed by Florida State University in non-confidential positions are considered Responsible Employees who must report suspected acts of sexual misconduct to the Title IX Director or designee. Confidential positions are limited to: 1) the Victim Advocate Program, 2) licensed mental health providers, 3) licensed medical health providers, 4) pastoral counselors and 5) designated staff working under the supervision of the Victim Advocate Program, licensed mental and medical health providers and pastoral counselors. To report an incident of suspected sexual misconduct, please contact:

Integrity in Research and Creative Activity

It is the policy of Florida State University to uphold the highest standards of integrity in research and creative activity, and to protect the right of its employees to engage in research and creative activity. Detailed policies and procedures can be found in the Faculty Handbook under “Section 6: Policies and Procedures.”
UNIVERSITY NOTIFICATIONS

Required First Day Attendance Policy

University-wide policy requires all students to attend the first day of class meeting of all classes for which they are registered. Students who do not attend the first class meeting of a course for which they are registered will be dropped from the course by the academic department that offers the course. This policy applies to all levels of courses and to all campuses and study centers. It remains the student’s responsibility to verify course drops and check that fees are adjusted.

Please refer to ‘Required First Day Attendance Policy’ in the "Academic Regulations and Procedures" chapter in the Bulletin for additional information.

Individuals with Disabilities

Florida State University adheres to Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), as amended by the Americans with Disabilities Amendments Act of 2008, in prohibiting discrimination against any qualified individual with a disability. Any student with a disability may voluntarily self-report the nature of the disability and identify needed accommodations to the Student Disability Resource Center, 108 Student Services Building. To request reasonable accommodations for employment or visitors, please contact Florida State University Human Resources/Office of Diversity and Equal Opportunity, located at University Center, Bldg. A, Suite 6200, or call (850) 645-6519.

HIV/AIDS Policy

Students, employees, and applicants for admission or employment at Florida State University who have or who may become infected with HIV will not be excluded from enrollment or employment or restricted in their normal responsibilities and access to University services or facilities due to their HIV/AIDS status, unless individual medically based judgments establish that exclusion or restriction is necessary for the welfare of the individual or of other members of the University community. That is, the University will not discriminate against otherwise qualified HIV-infected applicants, students, or employees.

Florida State University Committee on HIV/AIDS is responsible for monitoring developments with regard to HIV/AIDS, acting upon and administering the policies of the Florida Department of Education Division of Colleges and Universities and the University concerning HIV/AIDS and coordinating the University's efforts in educating the University community on the nature and prevention of the disease. In addition, the Florida State University Committee on HIV/AIDS meets as needed to consider special problems related to HIV/AIDS that require University action.

The University will be guided in its implementation of this policy by current authoritative medical information, applicable federal and state law, Florida Department of Education Division of Colleges and Universities' HIV/AIDS Policy, and the guidelines suggested by the Centers for Disease Control, the Public Health Service, the American College Health Association, and the Florida Department of Health.

Florida State University has designated HIV counselors who are available to the University community. Counselors are located at University Health Services (850) 644-4567; and University Health Services Center for Health Advocacy and Wellness (850) 644-8871. Confidential HIV testing is available for students and staff at University Health Services. Any interested individuals should call (850) 644-8871 to schedule an appointment.
should refer to the Graduate Bulletin for additional information regarding university notifications pertaining to employment, sexual harassment, illicit drug use, general standards of conduct, and other matters.

Leave of Absence Policy

Under special circumstances, graduate students may apply for a leave of absence from the university for a specific period of up to three consecutive semesters (includes summer term). The circumstances justifying a leave include, but are not limited to: personal or family medical conditions, call to active military duty, parental leave, death in immediate family, or completion of an off-campus internship. The student must provide appropriate documentation and a rationale for the leave request.

To apply for a leave of absence, a student must complete the Request for Leave of Absence Form (available on the Graduate School website) and submit it together with appropriate documentation to the major professor/advisor/Program Director. If the major professor/advisor/Program Director approves the application, it should then be forwarded to the department head and subsequently to the college dean for consideration. If approved at all of these levels, the college dean should notify the Registrar and the Dean of the Graduate School of the decision. The college dean should also notify the student of the decision (approved or denied). The Registrar will place a notation on the student’s record. A student who is denied a request for leave at any step may appeal the decision to the Dean of The Graduate School.

An approved leave of absence preserves the student’s academic status in his or her degree program, and the time off will not be counted against the time limits for awarding degrees. Consequently, registration is not required during the leave period and the student need not re-apply to the program to return to active status at the end of the approved leave period. A leave may be extended for additional consecutive semesters (includes summer term). A student should apply for the leave extension no later than four weeks prior to the end of the final semester/term of his or her initial leave to allow time to consider and process the request. Extension of a leave is subject to approval of the program, college, and the Graduate School. The cumulative number of consecutive leave semesters (including summer term) shall not exceed six. The total consecutive or non-consecutive leave time a student is not registered in the program shall not exceed 24 months. At the conclusion of the approved leave, a student must enroll at Florida State University and return to active status no later than the start of the next academic semester. Students cannot be on leave during their semester of graduation and must be registered for a minimum of two hours that semester.

A student on a leave of absence may terminate the leave at any time prior to the approved ending date. In such cases the student would be immediately subject to the continuous enrollment and registration policies. Students returning from a leave of absence of more than one year will be required to disclose any legal or campus disciplinary charges that arose during the leave and provide updated contact and mailing address, residency documentation, and other biographical information as required by the University for reporting and processing purposes.

Programs may have stricter leave of absence and registration policies. For example, a program may decide that under no circumstances would it allow a formal leave of absence or a program may choose to only allow a leave of not more than three consecutive semesters. Such policies shall be detailed in the program’s graduate student handbook.

While on leave a student will not have access to campus facilities and personnel. This means a student will not have access to labs, libraries, and online resources that require an FSUID. Students on leave cannot remain in student housing. There is no guarantee that financial aid will be continued. Students with financial aid or student loans should confer with the Financial Aid Office and review their loan agreements prior to requesting a leave of absence to ascertain the consequences a leave will have on their loan status. University assistantship and fellowship support will be discontinued for the duration of the leave. Programs are not obligated to reinstate funding support that was provided prior to the leave though they are encouraged to do so if funds are available. Students receiving external support e.g. an NSF Graduate Research Fellowship should check the terms of the award to determine the impact of being on leave. In-state residency status may be impacted if the student moves out of the State of Florida, and then returns to resume the degree program. Students should seek guidance from the Registrar on the potential impact on in-state residency. International students should check with the Center for Global Engagement to determine if a leave would adversely affect their visa status. Students should also consider other factors that might impact their circumstances upon their return to active status. For example, a major professor might depart the university, or under extreme circumstances a degree program might be suspended or terminated. The University has an obligation to provide a path to completion for enrolled students as well as students on a formally approved leave of absence.

Note: If allowed by the student’s academic program and University policy, an alternative to taking an official leave could involve reducing the standard course load temporarily because of exceptional

Financing Graduate Education

BUDGET

The university’s Office of Financial Aid provides an estimated yearly cost of attendance. This includes fixed amounts, such as tuition and fees, as well as amounts that must be estimated, such as room, board, books, transportation, and personal expenses. These budgets are for the purpose of awarding financial aid, and may not represent the actual cost for each individual student, as enrollment and lifestyle choices vary. http://financialaid.fsu.edu/Cost

The Council of Graduate School provides valuable general information on how to successfully manage your finances and educational costs. For more information go to http://www.gradsense.org/gradsense.

FELLOWSHIPS, ASSISTANTSHIPS AND INTERNSHIPS

A comprehensive site for graduate funding opportunities is maintained by The Graduate School. The site includes information on university-wide fellowships and assistantships, as well as those administered by Florida State University schools, colleges and departments. Additional information is also provided on external funding opportunities and internships. http://www.gradschool.fsu.edu/Funding-Awards

OFFICE OF GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS AND AWARDS

The Office of Graduate Fellowships and Awards (OGFA) provides resources and services to assist FSU’s graduate students with identifying and applying for external fellowships and awards. External funders include various agencies, foundations and governmental affiliates. Some example funding sources are the: Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, National Science Foundation, Ford Foundation, American Association of University Women, National Institutes of Health, Fulbright Scholar Program, American Heart Association and many others. The OGFA services include: supporting students as they articulate their interests and ambitions, introduction to fellowship opportunities that support academic, personal and professional goals, one-on-one advising during the application process, and workshops on specific opportunities and application preparation. The OGFA’s website provides a range of useful resources including, Newsletter, Upcoming Fellowship Deadlines Announcements, and access to Pivot (a funding search database) provided by FSU’s Office of Research, proposal-writing articles, and fellowship application tips for graduate students as well as faculty and staff. For more information, please contact ogfa-info@fsu.edu or visit the website at: http://ogfa.fsu.edu.

FINANCIAL AID Q&A

Information on financial aid topics, ranging from applying for aid to distribution of funds, is supplied by the Office of Financial Aid’s online Question & Answer website: http://financialaid.fsu.edu/FAQ

LOANS

Federal loans are a form of financial aid that must be paid back. Loans are considered financial aid because they are guaranteed by the federal government. Students who wish to borrow money to pay some of the cost of their education may borrow from a federal loan program, such as the Federal Perkins Loan program or the Federal Direct Loan Program, which includes the Federal Stafford Loan and Federal Loan for Parents (FPLUS). RESIDENCY AND IN-STATE TUITION RATES

If you are an in-state resident, make sure you complete and return the Florida Residency Classification form to Florida State Graduate Admissions. You need to do this even if you were previously classified in-state by Florida State, or any other Florida institution. Florida Residency Classification forms are available at https://admissions.fsu.edu/Residency/Residency.cfm. For questions regarding Florida Residency, please contact registrar@admin.fsu.edu or (850) 644-1050. Florida residency forms for graduate assistants are available at http://admissions.fsu.edu/images/pdf/gradassistverify.pdf

ACADEMIC COMMON MARKET

The Academic Common Market (ACM) offered through the Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) is a tuition-savings program for college students who want to pursue graduate degrees that are not offered by their in-state institutions. Students can enroll in out-of-state institutions that offer their degree program and pay the institution's in-state tuition rates. For additional information on the Academic Common Market, visit http://sreb.org/page/1304/academic_common_market.html

TUITION RATES AND DEADLINES

Tuition rates and deadlines are available year round, online, on the Office of Student Financial Services website. http://controller.vpfa.fsu.edu/Student-Business-Services

EMPLOYMENT

Internship and Cooperative Education

The Career Center primarily assists students who are seeking academic or career-related work experience opportunities, (i.e., internships, cooperative education, part-time work, temporary employment, and seasonal jobs, externships or volunteer work) before graduation. For a search of job listings, please click on the follow link to be directed to the Career Center Search: https://career.fsu.edu/handshake. Also available are mock telephone and face-to-face interviews. View the location, hours and phone number: http://www.career.fsu.edu/about-us/hours-of-operation.

Employment and Post-Graduate Education

The Career Center placement office is devoted to assisting seniors, graduate students and, in some cases, alumni with their postgraduate educational and employment needs. Several career expos as well as on-campus interviews are available to students and employers in the fall and spring semesters. For more information on finding a job please visit: http://www.career.fsu.edu/Students

Research and Development

In partnership with the Center for the Study of Technology in Counseling and Career Development, the Career Center conducts research on counseling and career development. The "Tech Center" was established to assist practitioners, researchers, software developers, and policy makers in improving the design and use of computer applications in counseling and career development, as well as improving the cost-effectiveness of career services. For more information about the Tech Center, please visit their website at http://www.career.fsu.edu/tech-center.
This website provides additional information for individuals and students interested in career development and computer technology. View the contact information: http://career.fsu.edu/About-Us/Contact-Us
FLORIDA STATE CALENDARS AND REGISTRATION GUIDES

The Academic Calendar and Registration Guide are compiled and continuously updated by the University Registrar, Office of Academic Publications. Dates listed on the Academic Calendar include: Registration, Fee Payment, Drop/Add, and University recognized holidays.

A digital version of the Academic Calendar can be found each semester in the Registration Guide (http://registrar.fsu.edu/registration_guide/fall/academic_calendar/). Dates and times listed in the Registration Guide are subject to change. Students should refer to the online Academic Calendar for the most up-to-date information. The Registration Guide is also available in Adobe PDF format for download and printing.

Buses

Seminole Express

With five routes, the Seminole Express bus service assists students in their day-to-day movement around campus, including Innovation Park. http://transportation.fsu.edu/seminole-express

StarMetro

Students with valid Florida State I.D.s may ride free of charge on all city bus routes. The Student Fare Free Zone is seven days per week except Thanksgiving and Christmas Days. http://www.talgov.com/starmetro/

Cars, Parking

All students are assessed a per credit hour fee paid with their tuition to cover their parking and transportation needs. To acquire a parking permit visit the Parking and Transportation Services website. Students must have a vehicle license number, vehicle make and model, valid Florida State e-mail, and a valid shipping address to which the permit will be mailed to obtain a student parking permit. Students must also have a valid FSUCard and be registered for classes. Permits become available the third week in August and are valid for one year: September 1 through the following August 31. It is not necessary to pay for the permit at the time of procurement, as it is charged to the student via the Transportation Access Fee on the tuition bill. UNIVERSITY GRADUATE DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

(As presented in the Graduate Bulletin)

PREREQUISITES FOR ALL GRADUATE DEGREES

Graduate work in any department must be preceded by sufficient undergraduate work in the field or a related one to satisfy the chair of the department that the student can successfully conduct graduate work in the chosen field.

A student is expected to have sufficient command of the English language to enable the student to organize subject matter and to present it in credible written form. Any faculty member may at any time refer a student to the Reading/Writing Center of the Department of English for noncredit remedial work.

EDITING SERVICES AND STATISTICAL ASSISTANCE

The following guidelines have been approved by the graduate policy committee.

1. University regulations are quite clear concerning plagiarism and inappropriate assistance; these regulations apply with particular force to theses and dissertations: “. . .violations of the Academic Honor Policy shall include representing another’s work or any part thereof, be it published or unpublished, as one’s own” - Office of Faculty Development and Advancement Web site, Faculty Handbook. Appendix A: Florida State University Academic Honor Policy;
2. The ready availability of editing services and statistical assistance, and in particular of computer and statistical research design assistance, must not be seen as a substitute for required training and/or coursework;
3. Professional editing services may not become a substitute for faculty advisement and should be confined to language structure;
4. The major professor must be informed and concur before a student seeks assistance in any or all of the editing or statistical assistance areas, and faculty concurrence should be documented as part of the student’s record. The particular scholarly work in question should be reviewed prior to such assistance, so that issues of scholarly form and content have been dealt with in advance of the use of such services. The student must confer with the major adviser before incorporating any advice obtained through the above-mentioned services into written work;
5. In all cases, such assistance must be noted in the acknowledgments accompanying the final version of a paper, thesis, or dissertation.

REVIEW OF THESES, DISSERTATIONS, AND TREATISES

Theses, treatises, and dissertations are expected to reflect original work. The review of academic integrity should be completed prior to the defense. Faculty may choose to use appropriate plagiarism checkers and peer review tools with early drafts of these manuscripts as an instructional aid in advising students on matters relating to plagiarism. The signatures of all committee members appearing on the Manuscript Signature Form constitute testimony from the committee that they are satisfied that the thesis, dissertation, or treatise meets FSU’s standards of academic integrity as described in the FSU Academic Honor Policy and appropriate steps have been taken to assure that this is the case.
Language of the Theses, Dissertations, and Treatises

The typical language of the dissertation, treatise, or thesis is English. Under special circumstances the Major Professor, the Academic Unit Head and the Supervisory Committee may approve writing the body of the thesis/dissertation in a language other than English if doing so is essential for scholarly reasons. Lack of sufficient English competency is not an acceptable justification for using an alternative language. The Major Professor shall immediately notify the Dean of the College and the Dean of the Graduate School for all cases where such approval has been granted. Notification requires completion of the ETD Alternative Language for the Dissertation /Treatise/ Thesis Form. All committee members must be completely proficient in the alternative language. It is the responsibility of the Major Professor and the Supervisory Committee to ascertain that the candidate's thesis/dissertation is written in acceptable English or an alternative language, in an appropriate scholarly style.

All non-English-language dissertations, treatises, or theses must have the preliminary pages and main section headings in English. This would include the content of the title page, committee page, acknowledgments, abstract and biographical sketch. All main section headings, including chapter and appendix headings, must be in English, but chapter/appendix titles may be in the chosen language.

Language of the Defense

The defense shall be conducted in English.

Graduate Students Enrolled for Two Degrees Simultaneously

Under certain special circumstances it is possible for a student to work concurrently on two degrees in two different departments. Students intending to do this must be accepted by both departments. A Dual Enrollment Request Form showing endorsement by both department heads and dean(s), as appropriate, must be sent to the Dean of The Graduate School for approval. Once approved, the Office of the University Registrar will be notified of the dual registration.

Note: Initial admission to a graduate program at Florida State University must be to one program only. After the first semester, the student may apply and be accepted to the second degree program desired.

Second Graduate Degrees

University policy prohibits the awarding of more than one degree from a specific degree program due to the overlap of core requirements of that degree program. Students should seek guidance from their advisers or their college when choosing to pursue a double major or dual degree. This policy applies to both current and readmitted students.

Combined Bachelor's/Master's Pathways, Direct-Entry Pathways, Joint Graduate Pathways and Dual Degrees

Combined Bachelor's/Master's Pathways. Combined bachelor's/master's pathways provide academically talented undergraduate students an opportunity to complete both a bachelor's and a master's degree. Upon approval, a combined bachelor's/master's pathway allows for up to 12 graduate hours to be shared with, or double-counted toward, an undergraduate degree program.

Direct-Entry Pathways. Direct-Entry Pathways are a type of combined pathway structured such that the curricula for two academic degrees are interwoven. Students are admitted to the bachelor's degree program with the understanding that they are expected to complete both degrees.
Joint Graduate Pathways. Joint graduate pathways provide qualified master’s students with an opportunity to earn two master's degrees or master's/professional degrees from two academic degree programs. Joint graduate pathways share academic content that allows a student to expand their breadth of knowledge and content expertise to include additional domains not covered in a single degree. All post-baccalaureate degree programs must have at least 30 unique hours of coursework. Upon approval, joint graduate pathways allow graduate/professional courses in excess of the 30-hour minimum to be shared with, or double-counted, toward both degree programs.

Dual Degree Programs. Dual degrees are two degrees earned simultaneously when a student is accepted by both a department/programs and is approved by the appropriate academic deans and the Dean of The Graduate School. A student must be admitted to one academic program initially, and after the first semester, may apply and be accepted to the second degree program. There is no formal relationship between the two degree program requirements in a dual degree situation.

To ensure that students entering a second graduate degree program receive timely and effective advisement on a program of study approved by the second department, admission to the second graduate degree program must be approved before the student completes more than twelve credit hours of coursework that are counted in that department toward the second graduate degree. In special circumstances, students may petition their academic deans for an exception.

This limit of twelve credits earned only applies to students admitted to their first graduate degree program in the Fall 2014 semester and onwards.

MASTER’S DEGREE PROGRAMS

Degrees Offered

The University confers at the master’s level the Master of Arts (MA), Master of Science (MS), Master of Accounting (MAcc), Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Engineering (MEng), Master of Fine Arts (MFA), Master of Music (MM), Master of Music Education (MME), Master of Public Administration (MPA), Master of Public Health (MPH), Master of Science in Planning (MSP), Master of Social Work (MSW), Specialist in Education (EdS), and Specialist (SPE) degrees.

The minimum requirements stated below govern all of these degrees except the EdS, the PSM, the SPE, and the MFA degrees. Individual departments may have additional or specific requirements over and above those stated here. Consult the appropriate departmental section of this Graduate Bulletin for details.

Types of Programs

There are two types of programs by which a student may secure a master’s degree: the thesis type and the course type. It is optional with any department whether it requires all majors to proceed under one or the other type, or whether it permits individual students to choose between them. For specific information, consult the appropriate departmental section of this Graduate Bulletin.

Thesis-Type Program. To qualify for a master's degree under this program, the student must complete a minimum of thirty semester hours of credit including thesis credit. At least eighteen of these hours must be taken on a letter-grade basis (A, B, C). The minimum number of thesis hours for completion of a master's degree shall be six hours.

Course-Type Program. To qualify for a master's degree under this program, the student must complete a minimum of thirty semester hours of coursework. At least twenty-one of these hours must be taken on a letter-grade basis (A, B, C).
Requirements at Master's Level

At the master's level students are expected to demonstrate an understanding and make sense of the core knowledge needed to function in their professional field. Master's level students are expected to demonstrate an understanding of the research process, and/or creative or problem-solving activity or application of the knowledge appropriate to their discipline. The student is held responsible for meeting the requirements listed below.

Standardized (Advanced and Achievement) Tests

Certain departments require the area or advanced tests of the Graduate Record Examinations or other standardized achievement tests. These tests should be taken no later than during the first term of residence in graduate study. Consult the chair of the major department for details.

Transfer Credit

Transfer of courses not counted toward a previous degree from another regionally accredited graduate school (or comparable international institution) is limited to six semester hours, and transfer of courses not counted toward a previous degree within Florida State University is limited to twelve semester hours, except when the departmental course requirement exceeds the thirty-two-hour University-wide minimum requirement. In the latter case, additional transfer credit may be allowed to the extent of the additional required hours. In all cases, the majority of credit must be earned through Florida State University or its official consortial institutions. All transfer credit must: 1) be recommended by the major department; 2) be evaluated as graduate work by the Evaluation Section of the Office of Admissions of Florida State University; and 3) have been completed with grades of 3.0 (“B”) or better.

Grades earned at another institution cannot be used to improve a grade point average or eliminate a quality point deficiency at Florida State University.

The University does not accept experiential learning or award credit for experiential learning. Transfer credit based on experiential learning from another institution will not be accepted.

General Course Requirements

The distribution of hours among 4000-, 5000-, and 6000- level courses and above is determined by the college or school of the student's major department. Only courses numbered 5000 and above are normally to be taken by graduate students. A graduate student's directive committee or department may, however, permit the student to take specified 4000 level courses in the degree program. Such 4000 level courses may be credited toward a graduate degree but not count in a student's graduate GPA.

Language Requirements

There is no University-wide foreign language requirement for the master's degree, except for the Master of Arts (MA) degree. Each department sets its own language requirements.
Residence Requirements

There is no University-wide residence requirement for the master's degree beyond that implicit in the limitation upon transfer credit, the recency of work requirement, and the full-time student load requirement. Master's candidates are advised that some programs and departments may impose a stricter rule of residency as required by the specific program of study.

Recency of Work

The work for the master's degree must be completed within seven years from the time the student first registers for graduate credit. Any graduate work transferred from another institution must have commenced not more than seven years prior to completion of the degree for the credits to be applicable to the master's degree.

Program of Study

As early as possible during the first term of graduate work, students should prepare a program of courses with the help of their major professor or supervisory committee. This program must be approved by the major professor and the chair of the major department. A copy of the approved program is to be kept on file in the department.

Major Professors

At the earliest opportunity, the student should follow the convention of the major department or college to identify the major professor, who will serve as the student's adviser and supervisor. If nine or more semester hours of work are taken in any department other than the major one, these hours may be considered a minor if so desired by the student and by the major department. Designation of the major professor requires the mutual consent of the student, department chair, and professor involved.

Supervisory Committee

A master's degree supervisory committee must be designated for all thesis students and may be designated for non-thesis students at the option of the department. The supervisory committee must consist of a minimum of three members of the faculty who have Graduate Faculty Status, one of whom is designated the major professor. All additional members of the committee must hold Graduate Faculty Status or (in the case of specialized or non-tenure track faculty) co-doctoral or co-master's Directive Status. Under special circumstances persons external to the University may be appointed as Courtesy Faculty with co-doctoral or co-master's Directive Status and serve on a student's supervisory committee. The department or college must enter the composition of the supervisory committee into the online Graduate Student Tracking system in a timely manner, but no later than the second week of classes in the semester that the student intends to defend. Only members of the supervisory committee may vote and sign the Manuscript Signature Form indicating approval of the thesis.

A supervisory committee's judgments on the quality of a student's thesis or dissertation should be based solely on the academic merits of the work before them. Any other standard risks a breach of professional ethics or law and undermines the integrity of the process and those involved. Any personal or financial relationships (e.g., involving the major professor, committee members, and/or student) that may create the perception of bias in that process must be avoided. This would not include the typical practice of hiring a student on a university assistantship in the home unit, but would include the student being hired by the major professor's private company. If any such conflicts of interest could exist, they should be reported to the administrative head of the student's academic unit, who will evaluate same for potential harm and take appropriate action.
Prospectus

A thesis-type program may require preparation and submission of a prospectus to the student’s major professor, supervisory committee, and departmental chair for approval. Students are reminded to seek Institutional Review Board (IRB) and/or Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) approval prior to commencing any research involving human or animal subjects. The student’s name must appear on the IRB approval and/or application form as a PI or co-investigator for the period of time when the student’s research and data analyses were conducted. Students must be listed on an ACUC protocol in order to conduct any animal research. Failure to be listed or obtain the required approvals may result in the thesis being permanently embargoed and unpublishable in any form, and the student may not be allowed to graduate.

Thesis

The subject of the thesis must be within the major field and must reveal independent investigation and knowledge of the methods of scholarship. It is the responsibility of the major professor to supervise the preparation of the prospectus and the thesis. The manuscript must be prepared according to the style and form prescribed by the department and must conform to the University requirements regarding format.

A student who enrolls in thesis hours need not be enrolled continuously thereafter in thesis hours if they meet the minimum University requirement for full-time or part-time enrollment through other coursework. A student must be enrolled in a minimum of two thesis hours in the semester of graduation. The minimum number of thesis hours required for the master's degree is six. Those with underload permission must register for at least two credit hours of thesis per semester. Underloads must be approved by the student's academic dean. Before registering for thesis hours, the student must consult the major professor as to the proportion of time to be devoted to thesis work.

Before writing the thesis, the student should become familiar with the University's manuscript formatting and clearance requirements. The thesis should be in the hands of the major professor and the examining committee at least two weeks before the date of the oral examination. At the same time, the thesis should be submitted electronically to the University manuscript clearance advisor in The Graduate School so that the clearance advisor can provide the student with a critique of the manuscript with respect to The Graduate School formatting requirements.

At least two weeks prior to the date of the examination, the student or major professor will present an announcement of the thesis title, date, and place of the examination to The Graduate School. The defense date must be submitted electronically to The Graduate School and will be posted on the Defense Calendar on The Graduate School's Web site.

After approval by the oral examining committee, which includes or may be the same as the supervisory committee, the student should electronically submit the final version of the thesis to the manuscript clearance advisor. The final approved version of the thesis must be submitted electronically to the University manuscript clearance advisor in The Graduate School within sixty days of the defense date or the student must be re-examined. If the student wishes UMI/PQIL (ProQuest) to register the copyright, an additional fee must be paid. Consult the Registration Guide for the manuscript submittal and forms deadline dates.

As a condition of undertaking a thesis master's program, the student agrees that the completed thesis will be archived in the University Libraries system. The student will make the electronic thesis available for review by other scholars and the general public by selecting an access condition provided by The Graduate School. The electronic thesis also will be archived by UMI/PQIL (ProQuest); the student will select an access condition that concurs with the access condition in the University Libraries system.
Publication of the thesis through standard media for scholarly work is encouraged.

Examination in Defense of Thesis

The defense of the thesis will be oral. Responsibility for suggesting the time, designating the place, and presiding at the examination rests with the major professor. It is recommended that students defend no later than the eighth week of classes in the semester of intent to graduate. Students must meet all manuscript and forms deadlines set by the Graduate School in the semester of graduation. Consult the Registration Guide for the manuscript submittal and forms deadline dates.

Academic courtesy requires that the thesis be submitted to each member of the supervisory committee at least two weeks before the date of the oral examination. At the same time, the thesis should be submitted electronically to the University manuscript clearance advisor in the Graduate School so that the clearance advisor can provide the student with a critique of the manuscript with respect to the Graduate School's formatting requirements.

The supervisory committee, the chair of the major department, and such other members of the faculty as may be appointed by the academic dean will conduct the examination. All members of the graduate faculty are invited to attend. At least two weeks prior to the date of the examination, the student must present an announcement of the thesis title and the date and place of the examination to the Graduate School. The defense date must be submitted electronically to the Graduate School and will be posted on the Defense Calendar on the Graduate School's Web site.

All committee members and the student must attend the entire defense in real time, either by being physically present or participating via distance technology. Individual departments may impose stricter requirements on physical attendance, e.g. all members must be physically present. Departments and other degree-granting programs must publicize their policy on defense attendance in their Graduate Student Handbook and in the relevant section of the Graduate Bulletin. If exceptional emergency circumstances, e.g. medical or other emergency situations, prevent the participation of a committee member, then it may be necessary to arrange for an additional appropriately qualified colleague to attend the defense. A minimum of three members with Graduate Faculty Status must participate.

The oral examining committee will certify the results of the examination: passed, failed, or to be reexamined. The report of results following a re-examination must indicate the student either passed or failed. To receive a passing grade, the written thesis must be in the final form or require only minor revisions at the time of the defense. A grade of PASS for the defense of thesis requires at least a majority approval of the committee. Individual departments may impose stricter requirements for what constitutes a grade of PASS. Departments and other degree-granting programs must publicize their policy on this issue in their Graduate Student Handbook and in the relevant section of the Graduate Bulletin. If the student passes, each member must sign the Manuscript Signature Form to substantiate the results of the defense. It is the responsibility of the major professor to submit this completed form either directly to the manuscript clearance advisor or to the appropriate college or department office for subsequent delivery to the manuscript clearance advisor in the Graduate School. The degree cannot be awarded until the required forms have been received by the Graduate School and the final version of the manuscript has been submitted to and approved by the manuscript clearance advisor.

After approval by the oral examining committee, the student should electronically submit the final version of the thesis to the manuscript clearance advisor. The final version of the thesis must be approved by the University manuscript clearance advisor in the Graduate School within sixty days after the defense date or the student must be re-examined. If the student wishes UMI/PQIL (ProQuest) to register the copyright, an additional fee must be paid. Consult the Registration Guide for the manuscript submission and forms deadline dates.

Comprehensive Examination

A comprehensive or other type examination, either written, oral, or both, at the option of the department, may be required for the master’s degree. Testing requirements and procedures are established by the major department.

Special Master of Arts (MA) Requirements

In addition to the requirements listed above, candidates for the Master of Arts (MA) degree must meet the following requirements.

- Proficiency in a foreign language demonstrated by certification by the appropriate language department, or completion of twelve semester hours in a foreign language with an average grade of at least 3.0 (“B”), or four years of a single language in high school.
- Six or more semester hours of graduate credit in one or more of the following fields: art; classical language, literature, and civilization; communication (not to include speech correction); English; history; humanities; modern languages and linguistics; music; philosophy; religion; and theatre.

DOCTORAL DEGREE PROGRAMS

Degrees Offered

The University offers the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD), Doctor of Education (EdD), Doctor of Music (DM), and Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) with degrees in several departments of the College of Arts and Sciences, College of Business, College of Communication and Information, College of Criminology and Criminal Justice, College of Education, FAMU—FSU College of Engineering, College of Human Sciences, College of Music, College of Nursing, College of Social Sciences and Public Policy, College of Social Work, College of Fine Arts, as well as in several interdepartmental and interdivisional areas. See relevant sections of this Graduate Bulletin.

Requirements of the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) Degree

The student is held responsible for meeting the requirements listed below.

The PhD is a research degree designed to produce the critical scholar. The degree is granted only to students who have: 1) mastered definite fields of knowledge so that they are familiar not only with what has been accomplished in their specific fields but also with the potential and opportunity for further advances; 2) demonstrated the capacity to do original and independent scholarly investigation or creative work in their selected fields; and 3) the ability to integrate their selected fields of specialization with the larger domains of knowledge and understanding.

Admission

Admission in the formal sense is governed by the same minimum standards as stated in the “Admissions” chapter of this Graduate Bulletin. However, a special effort is made by the departments to select and to admit only those who appear clearly qualified for studies at this advanced graduate level.

Diagnostic Examination

The student who has been admitted to work toward the doctoral degree may, before the end of the second semester of post-baccalaureate study, be required to take a departmentally administered diagnostic examination. It will be designed to appraise the student’s ability to pursue the PhD degree in the field and to facilitate counseling in the development of the student’s program of studies.

The department will notify the Office of the University Registrar if the diagnostic examination is failed and the student’s program is to be terminated.

Scholarly Engagement

To meet the Scholarly Engagement requirement, doctoral students should interact with faculty and peers in ways that may include enrolling in courses; attending seminars, symposia, and conferences; engaging in collaborative study and research beyond the university campus; and utilizing the library, laboratories, and other facilities provided by the university. The goal is to prepare students to be scholars who can independently acquire, evaluate, and extend knowledge, as well as develop themselves as effective communicators and disseminators of knowledge. The purpose of the Scholarly Engagement requirement is to ensure that doctoral students are active participants in the scholarly community. Each academic unit with a doctoral program should include a program specific statement in its Graduate Handbook describing how its students can meet the Scholarly Engagement requirement.

Transfer Credit

Transfer of graduate courses not counted toward a previous degree from another regionally accredited graduate school (or comparable international institution) is limited to six semester hours and transfer of graduate courses not counted toward a previous degree within Florida State University is limited to twelve semester hours, except when the departmental course requirement exceeds the thirty hour University-wide minimum requirement. In the latter case, additional transfer credit may be allowed to the extent of the additional required hours. In all cases, the majority of credit must be earned through Florida State University or its official consortial institutions. All transfer credit must: 1) be recommended by the major department; 2) be evaluated as graduate work by the Records Audit and Analysis in the Office of the University Registrar at Florida State University; and 3) have been completed with grades of 3.0 ("B") or better.

Grades earned at another institution cannot be used to improve a grade point average or eliminate a quality point deficiency at Florida State University.

The University does not accept experiential learning or award credit for experiential learning. Transfer credit based on experiential learning from another institution will not be accepted.

Course Requirements

The PhD degree represents the attainment of independent and comprehensive scholarship in a selected field rather than the earning of a specific amount of credit. Individual programs are planned to increase the likelihood that prior to students reaching the preliminary examinations they will have gained sufficient mastery of their field to complete them successfully. Prior to degree conferral, all doctoral students must have completed a minimum of twenty-four credit hours of dissertation.

Major Professor

Early in the doctoral program, the student should consult with the professors under whom the student may be interested in working and from whose areas of competency a dissertation topic could be selected. The student should request that the selected faculty member serve as major professor. The departmental chair will approve the major professor who must be a member of the faculty with Graduate Faculty Status (GFS) and have special competence in the student's proposed area of concentration. The appointment must be mutually agreeable to the student, major professor, and departmental chair.

Supervisory Committee
Upon the request of the major professor, the departmental chair will appoint the supervisory committee that will be in charge of the work of the student until the completion of all requirements for the degree. The supervisory committee will consist of a minimum of four members of the faculty who have Graduate Faculty Status, one of whom is the university representative of the faculty. Programs may establish a more stringent policy on supervisory committee membership but such policies may not conflict with the University policy. For example, a program may choose to stipulate that more than the minimum number of committee members hold Graduate Faculty Status in the program, or must be members of the tenure-track faculty. If deemed desirable and not established by policy it may also be appropriate to include additional members to provide necessary expertise. All additional members of the committee must hold Graduate Faculty Status or (in the case of specialized or non-tenure track faculty) co-doctoral or co-master's Directive Status. Under special circumstances persons external to the University may be appointed as Courtesy Faculty with co-doctoral or co-master's Directive Status and serve on a student's supervisory committee. The department or college must enter the composition of the supervisory committee into the online Graduate Student Tracking system in a timely manner, but no later than the second week of classes in the semester that the student intends to defend. Each year, the supervisory committee, the major professor, or the student's advisor prior to selection of a major professor will assess the progress of the student in writing and will make available copies of the annual review to the student, the departmental chair, and the academic dean. The Dean of The Graduate School, the academic dean, and the chair of the major department may attend committee meetings as nonvoting members. Only members of the supervisory committee may vote and sign the Manuscript Signature Form indicating approval of the dissertation.

A supervisory committee's judgments on the quality of a student's thesis or dissertation should be based solely on the academic merits of the work before them. Any other standard risks a breach of professional ethics or law and undermines the integrity of the process and those involved. Any personal or financial relationships (e.g. involving the major professor, committee members, and/or student) that may create the perception of bias in that process must be avoided. This would not include the typical practice of hiring a student on a university assistantship in the home unit, but would include the student being hired by the major professor's private company. If any such conflicts of interest could exist, they should be reported to the administrative head of the student's academic unit, who will evaluate them for potential harm and take appropriate action.

University Representative

The University representative is drawn from outside the student's department, as well as outside the student's degree program for interdisciplinary programs. The University representative must be a tenured member of the faculty with Graduate Faculty status and should be free of conflicts of interest with other members of the supervisory committee. The University representative is responsible for ensuring that the student is treated fairly and equitably in accordance with University, College, and Departmental guidelines and policies, and that decisions made by the supervisory committee reflect the collective judgment of the committee. This responsibility begins with appointment to the supervisory committee and ends with the defense of the dissertation. The University representative should verify that the defense is conducted appropriately, and then submit the Defense Report to The Graduate School within one week of the defense. Content knowledge in the subject of the dissertation is valuable for the University representative, but not required. In addition, the University representative represents the University’s interest and is responsible for ensuring that our doctoral graduates are of high quality. If questions or irregularities arise that cannot be resolved within the college, the University representative should contact the Dean of The Graduate School for resolution.

Program of Study

As soon as possible, the student, under the supervision of a designated adviser or major professor, should prepare and receive approval of a plan of courses to be taken. This Program of Study must be signed by the faculty adviser or major professor and the chair of the major department. A copy of the student's approved Program of Study is to be kept on file in the department. At the time of the annual review, changes to the plan should be noted and approved. Once designated, the supervisory committee should be included as part of the approval process for any changes to the Program of Study.

Language and Statistical Analysis Requirements

There are no University-wide foreign language, statistics, or other tool requirements for the PhD degree. Each department prescribes its own requirements.

The procedures for testing foreign language proficiency are set by the department prescribing the requirements. The Department of Classics prepares and administers the examinations in Greek and Latin. For departments allowing foreign students to use English in satisfaction of language requirements but unwilling to accept satisfactory completion of their departmental courses as sufficient demonstration of language competency, the University’s Office of Assessment Services will administer the Educational Testing Services Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) which certifies comparative attainment. Foreign students deficient in English may be referred to the Center for Intensive English Studies. The completion of that coursework may be accepted as an indication of competency. Examinations for other approved languages are prepared and administered by the Department of Modern Languages and Linguistics.

The language courses numbered 5060 are service courses designed to prepare the student for the language exemption examinations. The student may take these courses as many times as needed. Students will use the 5069 courses to register for the examination.

These instruments afford means of continuing access to the materials and literature of research; therefore, the candidate should acquire competency in them early in the doctoral program.

Preliminary Examination

Satisfactory completion of a preliminary examination shall be required for admission to candidacy for the PhD degree. No student may register for dissertation hours prior to the point in the semester in which the preliminary examination was passed. An admission to candidacy form must be completed and filed in the Office of the University Registrar prior to registration for dissertation hours. After completion of the admission to candidacy process, the student may retroactively add dissertation hours for that semester in which the preliminary examination was completed. Retroactive changes are only permitted if the preliminary examination is passed by the end of the seventh week of the semester. For term specific deadline dates, please refer to the "Academic Calendar" in the Registration Guide.

The preliminary examination is designed to test scholarly competence and knowledge and to afford the examiners the basis for constructive recommendations concerning the student's subsequent formal or informal study. The form and content of this examination will be determined by the department, college, school, or examining committee (typically, but not necessarily the same composition as the supervisory committee) administering the degree program. Prior to the examination, the student's examining committee will determine whether the student 1) has a 3.0 average, and 2) has progressed sufficiently in the study of the discipline and its research tools to begin independent research in the area of the proposed dissertation.

The chair of the major department, the academic dean, and the Dean of The Graduate School may attend any session of the supervisory or examining committee as nonvoting members. A member may be appointed to the examining committee at the discretion of the academic dean or Dean of The Graduate School or on recommendation of the major professor. Normally, the examining committee will be identical with the supervisory committee.

The examining committee will report the outcome of the examination to the academic dean: passed, failed, additional work to be completed, or to be re-examined; the report following the reexamination must indicate the student either passed or failed. The results of the examination will be reported to the Office of the University Registrar for inclusion in the student's permanent record.

Time Limit for Completion of Degree Requirements

All requirements for the doctoral degree must be completed within five calendar years from the time the student passes the preliminary examination, or the student's supervisory committee will require that a new preliminary examination be passed.

Admission to Candidacy

A student who has passed the preliminary examination and has been certified by the Office of the University Registrar (with an admission to candidacy form) is considered a candidate for the doctoral degree and is eligible to register for dissertation credits.

A student must be admitted to candidacy at least six months prior to the granting of the degree. The purpose of this requirement is to ensure a minimal lapse of time for effective work on the dissertation after acquisition of the basic competence and after delineation of the problem and method of attack. More realistically, the student should expect to spend a year or more of work on the dissertation.

Prospectus

After passing the preliminary examination, the student may be required by the department to submit to the major professor, supervisory committee, and departmental chair a prospectus on a research project suitable for a doctoral dissertation. Students are reminded to seek Institutional Review Board (IRB) and/or Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) approval prior to commencing any research involving human or animal subjects. The student's name must appear on the IRB approval and/or application form as a PI or co-PI for the period of time when the student's research was conducted. Students must be listed on an ACUC protocol in order to conduct any animal research. Failure to be listed or obtain the required approvals may result in the dissertation being permanently embargoed and unpublishable in any form.

Dissertation

A dissertation must be completed on some topic connected with the major field of study. To be acceptable it must be an achievement in original research constituting a significant contribution to knowledge and represent a substantial scholarly effort on the part of the student.

It is the responsibility of the major professor to supervise the preparation of the prospectus and the dissertation. The manuscript must be prepared according to the style and form prescribed by the department and must conform to the University requirements regarding format. Before writing the dissertation, the student should become familiar with the University's manuscript formatting and clearance requirements. The dissertation should be in the hands of the major professor and the examining committee at least four weeks before the date of the oral examination. At the same time, the dissertation should be submitted electronically to the University manuscript clearance advisor in The Graduate School so that the clearance advisor can provide the student with a critique of the manuscript with respect to Graduate School formatting requirements.

A student who has completed the required coursework, passed the Preliminary Examination and submitted an Admission to Candidacy form to the Office of the Registrar, and continues to use campus facilities and/or receives faculty supervision, but has not been cleared by the Manuscript Clearance office shall include in the required full-time load a minimum of two credit hours of dissertation per semester, including Summer term, until completion of the degree. A student must be enrolled in a minimum of two hours of dissertation in the semester of graduation. Those with underload permission must register for at least two credit hours of dissertation per semester (or term). Underloads must be approved by the student’s academic dean. Before registering for dissertation hours, the student must consult the major professor as to the proportion of time to be devoted to dissertation work.

Prior to degree conferral, all doctoral students must have completed a minimum of twenty-four credit hours of dissertation. For more information on the full-time load for doctoral students, see the "Student Course Load" section of this Graduate Bulletin.

For more specific information on final-semester registration, see the section "Registration for Final Term."

As a condition of undertaking a dissertation program, the student agrees that the completed dissertation will be archived in the University Libraries system. The student will make the electronic dissertation available for review by other scholars and the general public by selecting an access condition provided by The Graduate School.

Examination in Defense of Dissertation

The defense of the dissertation will be oral. Responsibility for suggesting the time, designating the place, and presiding at the examination rests with the major professor. It is recommended that students defend no later than the eighth week of classes in the semester of intent to graduate. Students must meet all manuscript and forms deadlines set by The Graduate School in the semester of graduation. Consult the Registration Guide for the manuscript submittal and forms deadline dates.

Academic courtesy requires that the dissertation be submitted to each member of the supervisory committee at least four weeks before the date of the oral examination. At the same time, the dissertation should be submitted electronically to the University manuscript clearance advisor in The Graduate School so that the clearance advisor can provide the student with a critique of the manuscript with respect to The Graduate School's formatting requirements.

The supervisory committee, the chair of the major department, and such other members of the faculty as may be appointed by the academic dean will conduct the examination. All members of the graduate faculty are invited to attend. At least two weeks prior to the date of the examination, the student must present an announcement of the dissertation title and the date and place of the examination to The Graduate School. The defense date must be submitted electronically to The Graduate School and will be posted on the Defense Calendar on The Graduate School's Web site.

All committee members and the student must attend the entire defense in real time, either by being physically present or participating via distance technology. Individual departments may impose stricter requirements on physical attendance, e.g., all members must be physically present. Departments and other degree-granting programs must publicize their policy on defense attendance in their Graduate Student Handbook and in the relevant section of the Graduate Bulletin. If exceptional emergency circumstances, e.g. medical or other emergency situations, prevent the participation of a committee member, then it may be necessary to arrange for an additional appropriately qualified colleague to attend the defense. If the University representative is unable to attend in real-time, then a new, appropriately qualified University representative must be selected to attend the defense. A minimum of four members with Graduate Faculty Status must participate.

The oral examining committee will certify the results of the examination: passed, failed, or to be reexamined. The report of results following a re-examination must indicate the student either passed or failed. To receive a passing grade, the written dissertation must be in final form or require only minor revisions at the time of the defense. A grade of PASS for the defense of dissertation requires at least a majority approval of the committee. Individual departments may impose stricter requirements for what constitutes a grade of PASS. Departments and other degree-granting programs must publicize their policy on this issue in their Graduate Student Handbook and in the relevant section of the Graduate Bulletin. If the student passes, each member must sign the Manuscript Signature Form to substantiate the results of the defense. It is the responsibility of the major professor to submit this completed form either directly to the manuscript clearance advisor or to the appropriate college or departmental office for subsequent delivery to the manuscript clearance advisor in The Graduate School. A written critique of the conduct of the examination in defense of the dissertation should be submitted by the University representative from the graduate faculty to the appropriate academic dean and the Dean of The Graduate School within one week after the date of defense.

After approval by the oral examining committee, the student should electronically submit the final version of the dissertation to the manuscript clearance advisor. The final version of the dissertation must be approved by the University manuscript clearance advisor in The Graduate School within sixty days after the defense date or the student must be re-examined. If the student wishes UMI/PQIL (ProQuest) to register the copyright, an additional fee must be paid. Consult the Registration Guide for the manuscript submission and forms deadline dates.

Publication of Dissertation

As a condition of undertaking a PhD program, the student agrees that the completed dissertation will be archived in the University Libraries system. The student will make the electronic dissertation available for review by other scholars and the general public by selecting an access condition provided by The Graduate School. The electronic dissertation will also be archived by UMI/PQIL (ProQuest); the student will select an access condition that concurs with the access condition in the University Libraries system.

Publication of the dissertation through standard media for scholarly work is encouraged.

Guidelines for Restrictions on the Release of Theses, Dissertations, and Treatises

The free and open dissemination of the results of research conducted at Florida State University is required if the University is to contribute effectively to the education of its students and to the body of human knowledge. Conflicts can develop among the interests of research sponsors, research directors, and the students doing the research. To ensure that the interests of all parties are protected, the following guidelines should be observed.

Electronic Theses and Dissertations (ETDs) as well as treatises must be made available in their complete and original format. They cannot be subdivided into chapters and disseminated under different distribution options.

Worldwide Access. Recommended to all of our students. This option makes the ETD freely available worldwide via the FSU ETD Digital Library Repository. It should be noted that some publishers may see a conflict with this level of distribution prior to publication.

Embargoed Access (Twenty-four Months). Recommended to students who have a patent application in process or who want to restrict access to the ETD for a limited amount of time in order to pursue commercial interests or other publication. After the restricted time period, the document will be made freely available through worldwide access (option above).

The maximum delay in the release of a thesis, treatise, or dissertation to the FSU Digital Library Repository and UMI/PQIL (ProQuest) shall not exceed twenty-four months from the date the thesis, treatise, or dissertation is approved by The Graduate School. In special circumstance, the Dean of The Graduate School may grant an additional delay of forty-eight months in twenty-four month increments, if the case is made that the delay is in the best interest of all parties or if publication or commercial interest in the document is still ongoing. Such a request must be submitted at least one month prior to the expiration of the original period of delay.
A request for such a delay must be presented in writing, through the use of the ETD Embargo Request Form, to the Dean of The Graduate School and carry the endorsement of the student and the major professor (or co-major professors, if applicable). The department or program chair, or dean of the relevant college may endorse the request if the major professor is retired, deceased, etc.

It should be recognized that adherence to this policy does not constitute a guarantee that information in the sequestered thesis, treatise, or dissertation will not be disseminated by means other than the written manuscript.

Information about particular access issues related to electronic theses, treatises, and dissertations may be obtained from The Graduate School.

Note: Students should not suffer delays in their normal academic progress, including the final defense of the thesis or dissertation, as a result of a desire to delay release of the thesis or dissertation to the library.

The FSU Digital Library Repository, in cooperation with The Graduate School, will offer restricted access to ETDs at FSU. Students may choose to limit access to their ETD on FSU's campus only via Internet Protocol (IP) range restrictions.

Please note that approval for Campus Community-Only Access is not automatic. Students must provide "reasonable justification" for their request. Also, in order to be granted Campus Community-Only Access, students must receive approval from their major professor (or co-major professors, if applicable) on the ETD Embargo Request Form.

Final approval may be granted by the Dean of The Graduate School only after the ETD Embargo Request Form is submitted to The Graduate School with appropriate signatures and justification.

Requirements of the Doctor of Education (EdD) Degree

The EdD degree is offered by the College of Education, the College of Music, and the College of Fine Arts.

Potential candidates for this professional degree are selected on the basis of experience, skills, and goals of the students seeking admission to the programs in which the degree is offered.

Such students will ordinarily have had some years of teaching or academic administrative experience and have shown some promise of being able to develop their pedagogical or administrative skills through further research and training. The College of Education permits, as part of its experience requirement, the completion of a practicum, undertaken during the period of doctoral studies, in which the student engages in doctoral work-related activities within an external agency. Once the degree has been earned, its possessor should be able to perform the tasks of the profession with a high degree of efficiency.

The EdD degree is further distinguished from the PhD degree by the nature of specific training (although there may be a core of studies common to the two curricula) and by that of the dissertation.

The training is designed to fit the goals of individual students under the careful guidance of a supervisory committee; since the purpose of the dissertation is to provide solutions to educational problems as they arise in the field, it shall be designed to deal with methodological or administrative procedures capable of providing such solutions. Students are therefore advised that their programs must include enough methodological inquiry to establish a basis for the procedures used to arrive at their conclusions.

In light of the above, the distinction between the EdD and PhD degrees cannot be made solely on the basis of research tool requirements. Depending on the dissertation project proposed, the candidate's supervisory committee may require as much training in such research tools as statistics, foreign languages, computer languages, or other programming techniques as necessary to complete the project.

The provisions of this section indicate steps leading to the EdD degree that differ from those leading to the PhD degree.

Requirements of the Doctor of Music (DM) Degree

The DM degree is offered to a candidate who demonstrates superior ability in music as a composer or performer. A candidate is admitted on the basis of creative aptitude and professional achievement. The degree is awarded to a candidate who has achieved distinction in performance or composition and who completes relevant theoretical and historical studies.

The provisions of this section indicate steps leading to the DM degree that differ from those leading to the PhD degree. Additional information pertaining to the DM degree are noted in the “College of Music” chapter of the Graduate Bulletin.

Requirements of the Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) Degree

Please refer to the “College of Nursing” chapter of this Graduate Bulletin for the requirements for this degree.

Professional Degree Programs

Requirements of the Doctor of Medicine (MD) Degree

Candidates for the MD degree must:

- Be able to fully perform the essential functions in each of the following categories: Observation, Communication, Motor, Intellectual, and Behavioral/Social Attributes as described in the College’s Technical Standards for the admission and educational processes
- Successfully complete all required and elective courses and clerkships, Years One through Four
- Pass the USMLE Step 1, Step 2 CK, and Step 2 CS
- Complete all requirements listed in the procedure’s log including CME Conference attendance, all listed procedures, ACLS, and BLS
- Complete all required surveys
- Be a “student in good standing” in the Spring semester of the Fourth Year

The Student Evaluation and Promotion Committee reviews the academic record of all fourth-year students in the Spring semester of the Fourth Year and verifies that all requirements have been met by each student. The results are submitted to the Executive Committee for consideration. The Executive Committee certifies the candidates are eligible to receive the Doctor of Medicine Degree.

For more information, please refer to the “College of Medicine” chapter of this Graduate Bulletin.

Transfer Credit

In rare cases a student may petition to be accepted to the College of Medicine and transfer credits from another institution. Transfer credits will be considered only for first year or second year courses. Requests for credit will be evaluated on a course-by-course basis, and the College of Medicine reserves the right to determine which credits would be accepted. Transfer credit will be limited to a maximum of the equivalent of two years of coursework.
Requirements of the Juris Doctor (JD) Degree

The Juris Doctor (JD) degree is awarded by the College of Law to students who have satisfactorily completed coursework and related requirements equivalent to three academic years of full-time enrollment.

Potential candidates for this professional degree are selected on the basis of Law School Admission Test (LSAT) scores, undergraduate grades, letters of recommendation, and goals of the students seeking admission, as communicated by personal statements. Successful completion of a bachelor's degree program at a regionally accredited institution is a prerequisite for law school admission.

The legal curriculum is designed to fit the goal of providing students with the professional skills and core knowledge necessary to engage in legal or law-related careers, while complying with standards prescribed by the American Bar Association and the Florida Bar. The first-year curriculum is comprised entirely of required courses in core subjects, and the second- and third-year curricula are primarily comprised of elective courses. Apart from the first-year curriculum, graduation requirements include coursework related to professional responsibility, upper-level legal writing and skills training, as well as pro bono service.

For more information, please refer to the “College of Law” chapter of this Graduate Bulletin.

Transfer Credit

Students must complete a minimum of forty-five credit hours of approved coursework from the Florida State University College of Law. This requirement may not be satisfied by credit earned under the auspices of another law school or through graduate-level courses at Florida State University or Florida A&M University. Generally, transfer credit is limited to the first year of Law School, the equivalent of twenty-four credit hours.

GRADUATION OF MASTER’S AND DOCTORAL STUDENTS

Academic Standards

A graduate student is not eligible for conferral of a degree unless the cumulative grade point average is at least 3.0 in formal graduate courses. No course hours with a grade below "C–" will be credited on the graduate degree; all grades in graduate courses except those for which grades of "S" or "U" are given or those conferred under the provision for repeating a course will be included in computation of the average. All conditions of admission must be met; in addition, there are usually other departmental requirements which must be met.

Faculty Academic Judgment

Master's Degree

Successful completion of coursework constituting the student’s program of studies, comprehensive exam or thesis does not guarantee award of the master’s degree. Faculty judgment of the academic performance of the student is inherent in the educational process in determining whether the award of the master’s degree or admission into a higher level degree program is warranted.

Doctoral Degree

Successful completion of coursework constituting the student’s program of studies, comprehensive exam, preliminary exams, defense of prospectus, and defense of dissertation or treatise does not guarantee award of the doctoral degree. Faculty judgment of the academic performance of the student is inherent in the educational process in determining whether admission to doctoral candidacy and the award of the doctoral degree is warranted.

Registration for Final Term

For doctoral students and master's students in a thesis-type program, registration shall be required in the final term in which a degree requiring a thesis, dissertation, or treatise is granted, in accordance with the policies stated in the 'Thesis' and 'Dissertation' sections of this chapter.

If a non-thesis student needs only to complete the comprehensive examination in a term and did not register for the examination in the previous term, registration must be requested from the Office of the University Registrar stating the department and the name of the examination. The student must pay the "examination only" fee. If the student has not been enrolled for the previous two terms, readmission is required before registration.

Clearance for Degrees

A student should apply for graduation online at http://my.fsu.edu under the "Academics" tab in the term that the student anticipates completing the degree. The application window is available in the academic calendar for the applicable term. If a candidate applied for graduation in a previous term but did not complete the degree, the application will be carried forward to the subsequent term.

A student's manuscript must be cleared in order to graduate; however, students also must meet departmental and University requirements before they can graduate. A manuscript is considered cleared if the manuscript clearance advisor has approved the formatting of the manuscript AND all forms have been received and verified by the manuscript clearance advisor. Students should become familiar with the University's manuscript formatting and clearance requirements before writing their thesis, dissertation, or treatise. Manuscript Clearance Workshops are also held during each semester. Workshop dates are posted to the calendar of events for The Graduate School.

All theses, dissertations, and treatises must be electronically submitted to The Graduate School via the UMI/PQIL (ProQuest) Web site; hard copies, or submissions via e-mail or any other electronic method will not be accepted. Students should submit their manuscript to The Graduate School at the same time that the manuscript is submitted to the committee prior to the defense. This initial submission is reviewed by the manuscript clearance advisor, who then provides the student with a reviewed, marked-up copy of the manuscript that shows formatting corrections to be made before submitting the final version of the manuscript. After the defense, students submit the final version of their manuscript, incorporating changes requested by their committee as well as those requested by the manuscript clearance advisor. Students not meeting these deadlines will be considered graduates of the following semester.

Initial format review deadlines: Two deadlines are posted each semester as follows:

- Last day to submit doctoral dissertation or treatise for initial format review
- Last day to submit master's thesis for initial format review

The relevant initial format review deadline is the date by which students must submit their manuscript to the manuscript clearance advisor for an initial formatting review. Manuscripts will not be reviewed and counted as an initial submission under the following conditions: not submitted via the ETD Web site; poorly formatted based on The Graduate School guidelines, or otherwise appears "sloppy"; sections omitted; page numbers omitted.

Final submission/all forms received deadlines: One deadline is posted each semester as follows:

- Last day for final submission of successfully defended thesis, dissertation, or treatise and required forms
By this date, students must submit the final version of their manuscript, and all manuscript clearance forms must be received in The Graduate School office by 5:00 p.m.

Deadline to receive final approval from the manuscript clearance advisor: One deadline is posted each semester:
- Last day for thesis, dissertation and treatise students to receive an e-mail from the manuscript clearance advisor confirming final clearance in order to remain eligible for a degree in the current term

Sixty-Day deadline: All manuscripts must be cleared within sixty days after a successful defense. If a student defends early in the semester of graduate, or in a semester prior to graduate, the manuscript clearance deadline that applies is the sixty-day deadline. For example, a student that defends on August 20 would have to have their manuscript cleared by October 20, even though the Fall semester clearance deadline is later in the semester. No exceptions will be made for this policy.

Contact the manuscript clearance advisor (clearance@fsu.edu) for any questions regarding the clearance process.

Policy for Awarding Degrees

Florida State University helps students meet their academic goals by monitoring academic progress toward their degree. If a graduate student has completed their respective degree requirements, the academic dean of the student's program confirms this, and the student is eligible to be awarded the degree, the University reserves the right to award the degree. Once the degree is awarded, the student must be readmitted to Florida State University in order to enroll in any courses.

Graduate students pursuing dual degrees in different disciplines must obtain formal approval of their academic dean, following established University procedures for such approvals. The student's degree program, not the major, will appear on the diploma. A list of degree programs is available in the "Academic Degree and Certificate Programs" chapter of this Graduate Bulletin.

Should the University invoke its prerogative to award a degree once a student has completed all stated degree requirements, the student may appeal this decision. If the student can demonstrate that continued enrollment is necessary to achieve his or her academic goals, the appeal may be granted. Reasons such as, but not limited to, desire to continue financial aid, participate in student activities, and access student services do not constitute legitimate reasons for appeal. The student's transcript will reflect both the degree program and the major when degrees are posted.

Any graduate student who wishes to appeal for continued enrollment, thereby postponing graduation, must submit a written request to the student's academic dean no later than ten class days after being notified that the University is invoking its right to award the degree. This appeal will be reviewed by a committee composed of the student's primary academic dean the Dean of The Graduate School, and the University Registrar. The committee must find evidence to support the student's claim of a legitimate academic need in order to grant permission to continue taking courses.

Once a degree has been awarded, all coursework leading to that degree is considered final and not subject to change. "Incomplete" grade changes or any other grade changes should be submitted prior to the posting of the degree. Grade changes or withdrawals for coursework that applies to the awarded degree may be considered only in cases of documented University error or in cases where the courses in question are documented as applying to a degree that is still-in-progress.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The Career Center

The Florida State University Career Center provides comprehensive career services to students, alumni, employers, faculty/staff, and other members of The Florida State University community. The Florida State University’s Career Center provides four general services: career advising and information; internship and cooperative education; employment and post-graduate education; and, research and development. http://www.career.fsu.edu/

The Career Center Library – Books, videotapes, CDs, computer-assisted guidance systems, and handouts provide information and choosing a major, careers, effective job search strategies, and experimental opportunities. The Career Center is located in the Dunlap Success Center, located at 100 South Woodward Avenue, next to the Askew Student Life Center and the FSU Health and Wellness Center. http://www.career.fsu.edu/resources/career-center-library.

Career Advising and Information

Florida State’s career advising and information office is the career planning part of The Career Center. This office offers drop-in advising, individual career counseling, a wide variety of information and programs as well as a computer lab and audio-visual room. It also houses The Career Center Library, which supports all Career Center services. The Career Center Library can be of assistance with educational and occupational planning. Books, videos, computer-assisted career guidance systems and handouts provide information on career planning, a career change, experiential opportunities, resume and vita writing, interviewing, letter writing, job search strategies, including academic job searches, search and much more. The library also maintains job files, which include position openings throughout the country, as well as some international positions. Career advisors are available on a drop-in and appointment basis. View the location, hours and phone numbers: http://career.fsu.edu/About-Us/Hours-of-Operation.
Internship and Cooperative Education

Florida State’s internship and co-op office primarily assists students who are seeking academic or career-related work experience opportunities, (i.e., internships, cooperative education, part-time work, temporary employment, and seasonal jobs, externships or volunteer work) before graduation. Also available are mock telephone and face-to-face interviews. View the location, hours, and phone numbers: http://career.fsu.edu/About-Us/Hours-of-Operation

Employment and Post-Graduate Education

The Career Center is devoted to assisting seniors, graduate students and, in some cases, alumni with postgraduate educational and employment needs. Several career fairs as well as on-campus interviews are available to students and employers in the fall and spring semesters. View the location, hours and phone number: http://career.fsu.edu/About-Us/Hours-of-Operation

Center for Academic & Professional Development (CAPD)

CAPD develops and deploys web-based credit and non-credit courses for degree and non-degree seeking students. In addition to online and on-site academic and certificate programs, CAPD provides professional development opportunities and other outreach activities locally, statewide, nationally and internationally in pursuit of lifelong learning. http://learningforlife.fsu.edu

COMPUTING RESOURCES

TEACHING SUPPORT

The Center for Information Management and Education Services (CIMES) and the Center for Advancement of Learning and Assessment (CALA).

In 2008 the Center for Information, Training, and Evaluation Services (CITES) reorganized into two new centers, the Center for Information Management and Educational Services (CIMES) and the Center for Advancement of Learning and Assessment (CALA). CIMES operates four major sections to provide its clients a full range of customized products and services: Information Management and Technology, Clearinghouses, Instructional Design and Training, and Marketing and Product Development. www.cimes.fsu.edu CALA provides the following services in an effort to raise and assess the level of learning in all settings: Research, Instruction and Training, Assessment and Test Development, Program Evaluation, and Web and Multimedia Development. www.cala.fsu.edu

Program for Instructional Excellence (PIE)

The Graduate School is committed to excellence in both research and teaching. It is important to prepare TAs, not only to insure immediate high-quality classroom instruction but also to prepare them for teaching careers when they have completed their degrees.

The Program for Instructional Excellence (PIE) was established to orient and better prepare TAs for their instructional roles at FSU. The purpose of this university-based TA development program is to supplement TA preparation offered by departments. PIE is a teaching resource for departments and all graduate student teaching assistants (TAs).

PIE programs include an annual fall and spring teaching conference/TA orientation that helps prepare TAs for immediate classroom responsibilities; the Outstanding Teaching Assistant Award Program (OTAA) which recognizes TAs for teaching excellence; and the PIE Teaching Associate Assistantship Program. PIE Teaching Associate assistantships are offered by the Graduate School to a limited number of experienced graduate student teaching assistants who are nominated by their department and selected by PIE to serve as mentors for other TAs. This program helps to improve teaching across campus by helping departments enhance their TA preparation programs and establish interdisciplinary connections and community among TAs at FSU. PIE also offers an online training series and a face-to-face workshop series that provides TAs with opportunities during the academic year to learn how to enhance student learning and increase teaching effectiveness. For information about the PIE programs and resources available for teaching at FSU go to: http://pie.fsu.edu.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

The Office of Graduate Fellowships and Awards

The Office of Graduate Fellowships and Awards offers interactive and informational workshops throughout the year. These workshops aim to introduce students to and engage students in the process of applying for prestigious fellowships and awards. Workshops and info sessions are hosted by OGFA staff, FSU faculty and staff and representatives from award funding agencies. To learn more about OGFA workshops, visit https://ogfa.fsu.edu/workshops
Program for Instructional Excellence (PIE)

The Program for Instructional Excellence (see above description) offers teaching workshops (The PIE Coffee Hour & Teaching Workshop Series) each semester, including the summer. These workshops give any graduate student, post doc, faculty or staff member that is interested in pedagogy an opportunity to discuss strategies and techniques that promote excellence in teaching and learning. Pie, coffee, and conversation with others from different academic areas is always provided free of charge. Each workshop is led by the PIE Director, PIE Teaching Associates, or an FSU faculty or staff member. PIE workshops also count towards the PFF and/or PFP Certificates, as well as the Advanced PIE Teaching Training Recognition. For more information and registration links, visit: http://pie.fsu.edu/Coffee-Hour-Teaching-Workshop-Series

Preparing Future Faculty Certificate Program (PFF)

In 1994, Florida State University, along with a group of fifteen doctoral universities and their partner institutions, was awarded a grant to participate in the Preparing Future Faculty program. The Preparing Future Faculty project (PFF) is a joint effort by the Association of American Colleges and Universities and the Council of Graduate Schools.

The Preparing Future Faculty (PFF) Certificate Program at Florida State University supplements the academic program experience by providing additional opportunities for graduate students and postdoctoral fellows to prepare for academic careers.

Preparing Future Faculty (PFF) Graduate Certificate

The Preparing Future Faculty Program assists Florida State’s doctoral students (and others headed toward academic careers) prepare for future faculty work. Through participation in coursework, workshops, and mentoring, PFF Fellows increase their awareness of expectations for faculty performance and of resources available to aid in scholarly careers, and build their readiness to address research, teaching and related demands of faculty life. Goals include enhancing the placement of FSU students in university positions and supporting the finest scholarly accomplishments of FSU’s graduates in their future careers.

Florida State’s Preparing Future Faculty Program has five components: Research; Teaching; Career Building; Mentoring; and Portfolio. The program is offered by The Graduate School with the cooperation of the Office of Research, the Career Center, a number of Florida State academic departments and colleges, as well as partner institutions.

Fellows who meet specified requirements, often involving participation over a two-year period, are awarded a PFF Graduate Certificate, but individuals may participate in PFF events without the intent of earning a PFF Certificate. The PFF Graduate Certificate Program is an academic certificate program that requires 12 credit hours. Therefore, a notation will be included on the transcripts of students/postdoctoral associates who complete the PFF Graduate Certificate Program.

Individuals interested in taking part in PFF activities, regardless of whether they seek to identify as Fellows or earn the PFF Graduate Certificate, should speak with Dr. Judy Devine.

Preparing Future Professionals (PFP) Certificate Program

To prepare graduate students for professions outside of academia, the Graduate School offers a graduate certificate, Preparing Future Professionals (PFP). The PFP Certificate requires coursework, professional development workshops/seminars, an internship/practicum or interviews in the field, a resume, and a portfolio. There are four (4) areas of the certificate—Content (knowledge in the discipline), Ethics/Integrity, Professional Preparation (transferable skills), and a Portfolio.

A total of 12 graduate credit hours must be earned toward the PFP Graduate Certificate. All of the courses taken for the certificate must be approved by the faculty member who serves as the major professor/mentor/advisor and the Graduate School, and must be listed in the student's Professional Readiness Plan. Courses selected to meet the required twelve hours will be determined by the major professor/mentor/advisor and must be approved by the Graduate School.

Six (6) of the twelve hours must be letter-graded and a “Satisfactory” grade must be earned in all S/U courses. Students must achieve and must maintain a cumulative 3.0 (B) grade point average in all graduate certificate courses in order for the graduate certificate to be awarded.

PFP Fellows successfully completing the PFP Graduate Certificate will have a notation included on their FSU transcripts.

Professional Development Workshop Series

Professional development, improving and increasing one’s skill sets, is important at every state of graduate education and beyond. At The Florida State University, numerous professional development opportunities are offered by academic departments/programs, the Center for Teaching & Learning, the Career Center, and The Graduate School.

Working closely with outstanding research faculty, administrators and the Career Center, The Graduate School at Florida State University offers a wide range of free workshops designed to equip graduate and postdoctoral students to achieve their educational and career goals.

The Florida State University Libraries have much to offer graduate students in both resources and services. A member of the prestigious Association of Research Libraries, the University Libraries are ranked among the foremost academic research libraries in the nation.

The Robert Manning Strozier Library, the main library on campus, primarily serves the humanities and social sciences programs, while the Paul A.M. Dirac Science Library houses materials in the sciences. Other specialized libraries on the main campus are located in the College of Law, College of Medicine, College of Engineering, College of Music, and the Career Center.

Resources

The Libraries’ resources support teaching, learning, and research across the curriculum. Many resources are available electronically and are accessible from any location. The Florida State University’s membership in the Center for Research Libraries provides access to many rare and specialized materials. Interlibrary Loan and UBorrow services provide access to materials from other libraries.

- 3 million+ volumes, including 1 million+ e-books
- 86,500+ serials and e-journals
- 800+ databases covering a wide range of subject areas
- Depository library for U.S. government, state of Florida and United Nations publications
- Special Collections of rare and historic materials

Borrowing Policies for Strozier, Dirac and Engineering Libraries

- Books – 8 weeks for graduate students; 16 weeks for graduate teaching assistants
- Books may be renewed online or in person at one of the campus library locations if they have not been requested by another person.
- Bound journals – 24 hours for graduate students and faculty
- Videos/DVDs – borrowing policies vary by collection
- UBorrow – 45 days from time of arrival at FSU; 1 renewal request allowed
- Interlibrary Loan – loan periods vary and are set by the lending institution
- Online resources available off campus from any location by logging in through the Libraries’ website
- Distance students can request physical materials from the Libraries’ collections through Interlibrary Loan

Research and Professional Support Services

Graduate students can take advantage of an array of services designed to support research and professional development, including private, individual, or small group research consultations with librarians for assistance with research, data management plans, digital scholarship, and citation management software. Support services are offered to students with disabilities.

- Research consultations for individuals or small groups on finding and citing sources, beginning literature reviews, or other research-related topics
- Online chat reference services
- Statistics and data-related consultations
Consultations and support for data management, digital projects, professional digital profiles, public access grant requirements, open access publishing costs, copyright and fair use, and impact analyses for research (impact factor, H-index, altmetrics)

Workshops on effective, efficient use of library resources

Citation management software

Access to print books from other Florida university libraries through UBorrow

Interlibrary Loan of materials from libraries worldwide

DigiNole Research Repository is an open access digital archive of the scholarly output of FSU, including dissertations and theses

Library Express Delivery Service delivers materials to Graduate, Research, and Teaching Assistants

Teaching Support Services

Librarians from the University Libraries are valuable partners in teaching critical thinking skills to students and helping alleviate the anxiety many students feel when confronted with university-level research and information gathering. The Libraries provide a variety of services to support teaching and learning.

Library research instruction for classes

Assistance with developing research assignments

Course reserves – articles can be put on electronic reserve and physical materials at one of the libraries

Multimedia production – Equipment and assistance available in Strozier Library

Customized research guides or content for Canvas sites

Instruction, consultations and support available for distance courses

Facilities and Equipment

The Scholars Commons, a faculty and graduate student research center, is located in Strozier Library and offers a variety of spaces for research, study, collaboration, and production of materials. Additional facilities and equipment are available in Dirac and other university libraries. Resources available to graduate students in the Scholars Commons and elsewhere in University Libraries include:

Computer lab with Microsoft Office, SPSS, Stata, SAS, NVivo, Maple, MATLAB, and other software

Group study rooms

Graduate conference room (can be reserved for larger groups, dissertation defenses, etc.)

Robert Bradley Reading Room (access limited to graduate students and faculty)

Quiet study areas

Individual study rooms, available on both short term and long term lending basis

Wireless access and wireless printing

Desktop PCs and Macs with access to the Internet and other software products

Multimedia production equipment and software

Web-conferencing technology

Laptops, tablets, digital recorders, cameras, projectors and other equipment available for checkout

Book scanner for books or loose-leafpapers

Adaptive equipment and software for persons with disabilities
Staff

Highly qualified subject librarians are designated for all academic programs. They are available to assist graduate students with formulating research strategies, using resources effectively, identifying and obtaining resources, and preparing materials for presentation or publication. Specialist librarians are also able to assist in areas such as digital projects, public access mandates, and copyright. A team of librarians devoted to developing and providing resources and services for graduate student’s staffs the Scholars Commons, located on the ground floor of Strozier Library.

Detailed information about the University Libraries’ resources, services, facilities and staff is available at the Libraries’ website: http://www.lib.fsu.edu.

Special Collections

The Special Collections and Archives Division of the Florida State University Libraries supports and advances research, teaching, and engagement by acquiring, preserving, and providing access to collections of original manuscripts, rare books, photographs, maps, memorabilia, and university archives for use by students, faculty, and researchers worldwide. Among the important research collections are the Napoleon and the French Revolution; John Shaw Poetry and Children collections; Scottish collection; Carothers Rare Bible collection; Florida and Floridiana collections; and the FSU University Archives. Many materials from these and other collections are available online in the FSU Digital Library: http://fsu.digital.flvc.org.

In addition to the Strozier Special Collections and Archives, The Claude Pepper Library houses the official and personal papers of former U.S. Senator and Representative Claude Pepper and related Florida political collections. The Heritage Protocol collections document and preserve materials related to the history and heritage of Florida State University.

CONDUCT OF RESEARCH

Human Subjects Committee (IRB), Office of Research

The Florida State University receives federal funding and has signed an assurance letter with the Department of Health and Human Services that all projects under the auspice of The Florida State University which involve human subjects will be reviewed for compliance with these regulations before each researcher collects data. All students, faculty or employees who conduct research involving human subjects when such data will be available for generalized knowledge, requires review and approval by the Institutional Human Subjects Committee. https://www.research.fsu.edu/research-offices/human-subjects/

Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC)

All uses of vertebrate animals in research and instruction at Florida State University, whether externally funded, internally funded, or unfunded must be reviewed and approved by the IACUC. This is a requirement of the Animal Welfare Act and the National Institutes of Health. Members of the IACUC are appointed by the university President to assess The Florida State University’s animal program, facilities and procedures. The IACUC is comprised of members of the university's scientific community, a university non-scientist, a community non-scientist member and the university veterinarian. The IACUC conducts in-depth reviews of all research and teaching programs or projects that utilize vertebrate animals. https://www.research.fsu.edu/research-offices/acuc/

National Science Foundation (NSF) Requirement on Graduate Students Funded by NSF

Effective January 4, 2010, the Office of Research Compliance Programs (ORCP) was required to certify to the National Science Foundation that a plan was in place to provide Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR) training for postdoctoral fellows, graduate and undergraduate students who receive support from NSF grants to conduct research. In response, the university has stipulated three options for meeting the NSF RCR requirement. Details of these options are on the Office of Research's RCR website at https://www.research.fsu.edu/research-compliance/rcr/.

Responsible Conduct of Research/Creative Endeavors Course

Each Spring Semester

Many students think that an understanding of the Responsible Conduct of Research and Creative Endeavors applies primarily to behavioral and biomedical sciences, but the elements of the Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR) applies to all disciplines of research and creativity (Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics, Arts,
Who should enroll in this graduate, one-hour Responsible Research course? Anyone planning to:

- Publish
- Collect and/or share data
- Conduct collaborative research
- Avoid conflicts of interest (e.g., financial, intellectual, time)
- Conduct human subject research
- Conduct animal research
- Mentor
- Serve as a peer reviewer

The textbook and in-state tuition for this cross-disciplinary one-credit hour graduate course will be provided at no charge for each student regardless of the discipline of study (limited to 80 students each spring). Students must pay fees (e.g., transportation fee, health fee, building fee, etc.). Students dropping the course after Add/Drop will be liable for the tuition and fees.

Each fall, the course numbers for each broad discipline and the classroom are announced prior to the spring registration window.

Statistical Consulting Center

Dedicated to improving the quality of statistical information in other research fields, the Statistical Consulting Center provides a variety of services to members of the university community free of charge. Services include translating research hypotheses into statistical terms; assisting in the design or evaluation of experiments and sampling procedures; assisting in the interpretation and presentation of statistical results (including computer output); advising on the choice of statistical methods and computer programs; developing models or new statistical procedures as part of a joint research effort; meeting informally with faculty and students in an interest group; statistical support in the creation of ETDs (Electronic Theses, Treatises, and Dissertations); and referring clients to other sources of advice and assistance. https://ani.stat.fsu.edu/consult/

The Florida State University’s Reading and Writing Center

The Reading/Writing Center (RWC), located in Williams 222C, as well as several other locations across campus, is devoted to individualized instruction in reading and writing. Part of the English Department, the RWC serves The Florida State University students at all levels and from all majors. Its clients include a cross-section of the campus: first-year students writing personal essays, upper level students writing term papers, seniors composing letters of applications for jobs and graduate schools, graduate students working on theses and dissertations, multilingual students mastering English, and a variety of others.

The tutors in the Center, all graduate students in English with training and experience in teaching composition, use a process-centered approach to help students at any stage of their writing or reading: from getting ideas, to building vocabulary, to writing and revising. The RWC does not provide editing or proofreading services. Its tutors can, however, help writers build their own editing and proofreading skills.

Students who want help from a tutor may come for free sessions or register for a course in the RWC. The current free tutorial policy allows people to schedule three free appointments each semester. Additional free sessions are provided to walk-in students whenever tutors are not working with someone who has a scheduled appointment.
Taking ENC 1905 (Improv/Writ/Skills), REA 1905 (College Level Reading), and ENG 5998 (graduate writing) ensures a student an appointment every week over a full semester. Each course can be taken for 1-3 elective credit hours.

In addition to the Center's in-person tutorials, the RWC offers online tutorials as well. Through this service, tutors work with students via e-mail to provide help with such concerns as understanding assignments, selecting topics, drafting, revising, and polishing texts. For more information about the Center, including hours of operation, locations, and instructions for creating an appointment, please visit:

Office of Commercialization

The research you conduct as a student may have commercial as well as academic value. The Office of Intellectual Property Development and Commercialization can help you obtain patent and copyright protection for your work and will assist in moving your innovative results into public use. Their services to students, faculty and outside enterprises are described in detail at: https://www.research.fsu.edu/research-offices/oc/

FUNDING YOUR RESEARCH

Congress of Graduate Students (COGS), Conference Presentation Grant

These grants of $200 to $500 are for travel to academic conferences at which a graduate student is making a presentation. The application must be submitted no less than 15 business days before travel commences. Funds are limited, so the application should be filed soon after receipt of acceptance. Students are limited to two travel grants per fiscal year (July 1st to June 30th). Application forms can be found by clicking on the link below or may be picked up in the COGS office (Room A209 Oglesby Union). Please refer to the application for specific deadlines. http://sga.fsu.edu/cogs-presentation.shtml

Congress of Graduate Students (COGS), Academic Conference Support Grant

These grants of $100 are for graduate students attending academic conferences. Please attach a copy of your conference registration form and submit it at least 15 business days prior to your conference. To receive your grant money, you must submit your receipts totaling to $100 as well as an original conference program or agenda and must be submitted upon return from travel. Students are limited to two grants per fiscal year (July 1st to June 30th). Application forms can be found by clicking on the link below or may be picked up in the COGS office (Room A209 Oglesby Union). Please refer to the application for more details. http://sga.fsu.edu/cogs-attendance.shtml

Dissertation Research Grants

Administered by The Graduate School, these are grants for dissertation writers to assist with expenses associated with research to prepare the dissertation. These funds of up to $1000 are meant to cover expenses associated with research activities necessary for a high quality dissertation. These funds are not intended to cover all expenses dissertation writers incur such as typing or word processing services, copying of the dissertation, editing services, etc. Funds, however, may be used to purchase books, software, supplies necessary for research, travel, etc. Any Florida State graduate student who has not previously received a Dissertation Research Grant, has been admitted to candidacy, and is actively engaged in research or creative activity in support of his/her dissertation, is eligible to apply for this grant. http://gradschool.fsu.edu/Funding-Awards/Graduate-School-Awards/Student-Awards-and-Grants
International Dissertation Semester Research Fellowship

This fellowship carries includes a stipend per semester (up to two semesters), plus tuition waivers, for advanced doctoral students. This prestigious international fellowship for advanced doctoral students offered by the Graduate School to facilitate research and timely completion of the doctoral degree that requires extended research-time abroad. Recipients must enroll for a minimum number of dissertation hours during the research semester. Recipients must conduct research abroad for the duration of the fellowship. Applications are through the academic department Chair or College Dean as appropriate.

STUDENT DISABILITY RESOURCE CENTER

By providing support services at no cost to students with disabilities, the Student Disability Resource Center offers an opportunity for students with disabilities to achieve their academic and personal goals. As the primary advocate on campus for students with disabilities, the SDRC works with faculty and staff to provide accommodations for the unique needs of students both in and out of the classroom. http://www.disabilitycenter.fsu.edu/

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM OFFICE

International Programs has over fifty years of experience in international education and we are nationally recognized leaders in the field of study abroad programs. We offer over fifty diverse programs in twenty different locations around the world, many of which include graduate course offerings. In each host country, our program directors or leaders have forged solid academic affiliations while securing excellent learning facilities and living accommodations. Some programs offer Teaching Assistant Opportunities.

Furthermore, International Programs maintains four Study Centers in different cities around the world. These centers provide a unique opportunity for students to immerse themselves in the city life and culture while studying. The Florida State University has also adopted a Policy for International Experiences which attempts to ensure that all international programs are academically and culturally enriching experiences. It also helps to ensure the safety and security of all students participating in international experiences. For more information please visit: http://www.international.fsu.edu

GLOBAL PATHWAYS GRADUATE CERTIFICATE

The Florida State University is one of the few universities in the country to offer a certificate recognizing the development of global competencies, and uniquely allows students to meet the requirements by interacting with international communities on campus and in the United States, as well as abroad. The Florida State University Global Pathways Graduate Certificate maximizes the rich cultural learning experiences available to students. Students can choose a certificate theme based on their interest and goals, take related academic courses and a language or cultural communication course, and participate in international and/or cross-cultural experiences and events to enhance your theme. Some of the requirements may have been met as an undergraduate and can be counted retroactively. Any major can participate; it particularly helps students stand out who are in majors that are not specifically internationally focused. Through the Global Pathways Graduate Certificate, students will:

- Become more cross-culturally and global conscious citizens.
- Develop important competencies which will help students collaborate more effectively with people from cultures different than their own.
- Develop necessary skills to enter the work force that is diverse and multicultural.
- Be able to demonstrate to future employers and graduate schools that students have worked to prepare themselves for today’s global society through the academic courses and cross-cultural experiences required for the certificate.
- Receive a certificate and documentation on their transcript that will show that the students have earned a Global Pathways Certificate with a particular emphasis, selected by the student.

There are eleven of theses/ emphases that students can choose from.

STUDENT LIFE

Campus

Student Health and Wellness Center – The mission of the Health Center is to keep students healthy so that they can engage productively in the academic affairs at Florida State University, improving academic performance and increasing retention. The Health Center is an auxiliary service under the Division of Student Affairs. The Health Center staff includes board certified physicians, consulting medical specialists, nurse practitioners, registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, health technologists, pharmacists, health educators and other health professionals. http://www.tshc.fsu.edu

Insurance/Health Compliance – Affordable student health insurance is available through the Health Center. The staff of the Health Center understands that health insurance can be a complex and confusing issue. To simplify things, they have put together answers to some of the most common health insurance questions. If a question is not answered on their website, contact the insurance office at (850) 644-3608 or visit http://www.studentinsurance.fsu.edu

Subsidy Benefit – Select graduate assistants and fellows will be provided a health insurance subsidy towards the purchase of the university sponsored health insurance plan. The subsidy will be disbursed by semester (fall/spring/summer). For more information on the health subsidy and a summary of the health insurance plans, please visit: http://gradschool.fsu.edu/Funding-Awards/Subsidy-Benefit

For more information on cost, coverage, how and when to enroll for the university sponsored health insurance visit the Student Health and Wellness Center's insurance website. Note: All students must provide proof of immunization to the Student Health and Wellness Center Immunization Department before they will be allowed to register.

University Counseling Center – The University Counseling Center is a student service agency within the Division of Student Affairs. The major goal is to provide support services that help each student grow and develop emotionally, interpersonally, and intellectually. As individuals, students have unique concerns and needs. The Student Counseling Center offers various counseling methods tailored to meet those needs. For more information, visit http://counseling.fsu.edu.

The FSU Family Institute – A multidisciplinary unit established to bring together faculty, students, government, and community resources to provide a centralized source of information, research capacity, and critical thinking related to families. The mission is carried out through the following objectives:

- Conduct and disseminate research to advance scientific knowledge of the forces that influence the capacity of families to provide healthy environments for their children.
- Design and deliver model educational training and other programs for professionals, children and their families.
- Collaborate with associates from other universities, agencies and institutions serving children and their families.
- Use research-based data to guide state policy activities which impact child and family well-being, and critically evaluate the outcomes of current policies for children and families in Florida.
- Provide training opportunities for graduate and undergraduate students and in-service training to professionals working with children and families.
- Secure funding for projects in keeping with the mission of the Institute.
More information can be found at: http://www.familyinstitute.chs.fsu.edu/.

Center for Couple and Family Therapy – For more than 40 years, The Florida State University Center for Couple & Family Therapy has provided community-based services to thousands of clients with different needs. Doctoral students provide these services, most of whom have at least 500 hours in supervised clinical work with a variety of people from a broad spectrum of socioeconomic and ethnic backgrounds.

The Center for Couple & Family Therapy is a non-profit clinic serving individuals, couples, families, and children. It is unique in that human strengths and challenges are understood to be outcomes influences by the broader social and other contexts in which they are embedded. To make services available to all who wish them, care is provided on a sliding scale, based on family income.

Student therapists at the Center work with a variety of clients with a wide range of individual, couple, and family concerns from a broad spectrum of socioeconomic and ethnic backgrounds. The Center, as an active referral source, collaborates with state and community agencies to provide counseling services for their clients. Fees are determined on a sliding scale based on income and sessions range from $22 to $100. All intake sessions are $30, regardless of income or student status. FSU students receive a reduced intake session fee of $22. For an appointment call (850) 644-1588 or visit http://ccft.fsu.edu/

Psychology Clinic - A mental health service, training, and research center operated by the Department of Psychology. Services are provided by doctoral level student therapists in the Clinical Psychology Ph.D. program, under the close supervision of faculty members. The program is accredited by the American Psychological Association.

The Psychology Clinic offers affordable outpatient mental health services while providing experience for graduate students in the doctoral program in Clinical Psychology. The clinic provides confidential and personalized services that are sensitive to issues of diversity, and specializes in therapies that are supported by research (empirically-supported therapies). CHILD CARE

All university child care centers are operated by The Florida State University Child Development Programs. The two centers are: The FSU Children’s Center and The Infant and Toddler Child Development Center. All were established to assist student parents in the care and education of their children so that they could attend classes as well as to provide “hands on” experience and training for various academic departments on The Florida State University campus. FSU Child Development Programs are accredited by the National Academy of Early Childhood Programs a Division of the National Association for the Education of Young Children. Programs are governed by The Florida State University’s Board of Trustees, and are administered by University Housing. http://www.childcare.fsu.edu

Community

The Department of Children and Families Office of Child Care Regulation and Background Screening is statutorily responsible for the administration of child care licensing and training throughout Florida. The purpose of this program is to ensure that children are well cared for in a safe, healthy, positive and educational environment by trained, qualified child care staff. http://www.myflfamilies.com/service-programs/child-care

Steps to Graduation: The Final Term
STEPS TO GRADUATION – THE FINAL TERM

Step 1 – Register

In the final term, doctoral students and master’s students in a thesis-type program should register for a minimum of two credit hours of thesis/dissertation/treatise credit. Students who have not already done so should also register for defense. Non-thesis students needing only to complete the comprehensive examination who have not previously registered for the examination must request registration from the Office of the Registrar, stating department and name of examination, and pay the “examination only” fee. Students should check with the Office of the Registrar to ensure their transcripts are free of Incompletes and that all outstanding fees have been paid.

Step 2 – Apply for Graduation

During the first two weeks of the final term, students must “Apply for Graduation Online” through the Office of the Registrar, Graduation Section, http://registrar.fsu.edu/graduation/. If a candidate previously filed for graduation but did not receive the degree, the application procedure must be repeated.

All questions regarding Commencement and cap and gown ordering should be referred to the Graduation Section of the Office of the Registrar (850-644-5850).

All information pertaining to the submission requirements for Electronic Thesis, Treatise and Dissertation content can be found on The Graduate School's Main Website. In order for students to submit their manuscript successfully, they must adhere to the formatting rules found in the most recent version of the "Guidelines and Requirements for Electronic Theses, Treatises, and Dissertations," as well as meet the deadlines outlined in the semester they intend to graduate.

The Graduate School recommends that students submit their manuscript to the manuscript clearance adviser for the initial format check when it is submitted to the supervisory committee in preparation for the defense. In any case students must submit the initial version of their manuscript by the Initial Format Submission Deadline in the semester they intend to graduate. Students must then submit their final version and all forms by the Final Manuscript Submission and Forms Deadline. However, in all cases students must have their manuscript cleared within 60 days of a successful defense or the student must be re-examined. In some cases, the 60-Day Deadline may occur before either semester deadline; in those cases, the 60-Day Deadline takes precedence over the semester deadlines.

Semester deadlines are posted on the Graduate School’s Main Website: https://gradschool.fsu.edu/academics-research/thesis-treatise-dissertation
STEP 4 – ANNOUNCE YOUR DEFENSE AND SUCCESSFULLY DEFEND

At least two weeks prior to the defense, all students must submit an online announcement of defense to The Graduate School. In order to submit a defense announcement, the student’s committee must be valid. Students with invalid committees should contact their graduate coordinator to resolve the issue(s). It is recommended that students defend no later than the eighth week of classes in the semester of intent to graduate. Students must defend by no later than the deadline for submission of final manuscript in the semester of intent to graduate. The Defense Announcement Link can be found on The Graduate School’s Main Website: https://gradschool.fsu.edu/academics-research/thesis-treatise-dissertation NOTE: Course-based master’s students candisregard this section.

STEP 5 – FINAL SUBMISSION

Each doctoral student and master’s student in a thesis-type program must have the format of their manuscript approved by the manuscript clearance adviser and submit all of their required clearance forms. A list of the required forms as well as the forms can be found on The Graduate School Main Website. The manuscript clearance adviser is available to examine manuscripts and answer formatting questions throughout the academic year. For final clearance, students must submit all required forms to The Graduate School and upload the manuscript documents to the manuscript clearance adviser via the ProQuest Admin web site by the deadline for submission of final manuscript, which is posted each semester on The Graduate School’s Main Website. The manuscript clearance adviser will perform a final check of each student’s electronic thesis, treatise or dissertation (and forms), and will inform the student if their manuscript has cleared or if any additional formatting corrections are needed. Note: The manuscript must be submitted as a PDF for both the initial format check and final format check. As part of the uploading process, the ProQuest web site will convert WORD documents to PDF if the student does not have the software to convert their manuscript to a PDF. All students should consult their departmental adviser for final term departmental requirements. NOTE: Course-based master’s students candisregard this section.
